

HOLDING ON

“A soulfully piercing, spiritually powered, vocal and musical canvas for the soul.”

Some Mystique Music is the home of writer, producer Brian Cosby. As an Atlanta native and son of a classically trained vocalist, music has always been a part of his life. Gladly taking his role as the man behind the music, Cosby enjoys utilizing his writing and production skills to introduce vocal talents to the world. He does so now by presenting the vocal talents of “SONYA”, a powerful addition to the Some Mystique Music family.

Some Mystique Music was founded by Cosby in the early 1990's in his hometown, Atlanta, Georgia. The company consists of two subsidiaries; Some Mystique Music—Publishing and Some Mystique Music—Productions.

Some Mystique Music—Publishing is a part of BMI, a performing rights organization. Cosby and Some Mystique Music were awarded best song in a BMI competition judged by industry professionals, identifying him and the company as a definite talent in the industry.

Cosby wrote and produced a song that was performed during the Olympics hosted in Atlanta, Georgia. As CEO, the company continues to grow developing other gifted song writers, producers, and vocalists.

“When it’s all said and done, I’d like to be remembered as a writer that had something to say, something that had meaning and value to people. Remembered as a “crafter of songs.”
